

TWSF BOARD ANNOUNCEMENT

EXCLUSIVE: THE WHITE SHADOW FOUNDATION

As of April 2022, The White Shadow Foundation (TWSF) is pleased to advise that it has been registered and endorsed as an Australian charity. Headquartered on the Gold Coast in Queensland, Australia, TWSF exists to serve poor, disadvantaged and marginalised people throughout the country. The Foundation provides targeted benevolent relief to vulnerable people who are experiencing recognisable sickness, poverty and distress in the areas of mental health, homelessness, domestic and family violence, father's parental and custody rights, child sexual abuse and protection, anti-sex trafficking, and throughout women's health spaces. The philanthropic foundation is honoured to welcome Mark Henderson, Jeanette Cheung, Jen Swenson, and Gary Swenson to the Executive Board and Advisory Team, along with CEO Andrew Douglas.

Each of these Board Members and specialist advisors were selected based on their own personal passions to support and help those less advantaged in the community. TWSF facilitates its nationwide work through annual grant programs, distributing financial resources to successful applicants, which are individuals in immediate need, and also established organisations serving on the frontlines. TWSF also develops social issue documentary projects, and media campaigns which spear-head compassion efforts.

Mark Henderson, the charity's Media Relations and Publicist states, "It has been my privilege to serve on the Advisory Board alongside Andrew Douglas and the team at The White Shadow Foundation for the past few months as we successfully achieved charitable status and continue to progress in our mission to develop documentary films that truly challenge the status quo, advocate for those in need, and as we work to support the disadvantaged and marginalised people living in our communities today. I can't wait to share more about the phenomenal philanthropic, charitable and inspiring work I have the opportunity to advise on in my role with TWSF."

For more information on the new Board Members and the philanthropic work carried out by the charity, head to whiteshadowfoundation.org.